Quarterly Fund Commentary

U.S. equities rose for the quarter-ended September 30, 2017. Specifically, the broad U.S. market, as defined by the Russell 3000 Index, increased by 4.57%. Growth outperformed value for the quarter, with technology leading sector performance. Conversely, consumer staples was a notable detractor across both large cap and mid cap indices. A reversal from Q2, small cap outpaced mid and large cap during the quarter and continued to outperform over the 1-year period.

The Fund returned 4.30% during the quarter, outperforming its benchmark, the Russell 2500 Value Index, which returned 3.83%. The Fund benefitted from having more invested in larger cap companies than the index. The Fund also benefitted from both sector allocation and stock selection. The Fund's underweight position in the real estate sector benefited relative returns most from an asset allocation perspective. Bottom-up stock selection in technology and financials also contributed to the Fund's outperformance. Conversely, poor stock selection within the consumer discretionary, industrials and utilities sector detracted from performance.

Multi-manager and multi-style management may lead to overlapping securities transactions and higher transaction expenses compared to single investment management styles.
