Quarterly Fund Commentary

U.S. equities rose for the quarter-ended September 30, 2017. Specifically, the broad U.S. market, as defined by the Russell 3000 Index, increased by 4.57%. Growth outperformed value for the quarter, with technology leading sector performance. Conversely, consumer staples was a notable detractor across both large cap and mid cap indices. A reversal from Q2, small cap outpaced mid and large cap during the quarter and continued to outperform over the 1-year period.

The Fund returned 3.66% during the quarter, underperforming its benchmark, the Russell 2500 Growth Index, which returned 5.78%. Overall, the Fund's sector allocation and stock selection detracted from performance for the quarter. The Fund's overweight to the consumer staples sector and negative stock selection in the healthcare and industrials sectors were the main drivers of relative underperformance. Strong security selection within the consumer staples and information technology sectors was the largest positive contributor to Fund performance.

Mutual fund investing involves risk. The value of your investment in the Fund could go down as well as up. Investments in small and mid-cap companies may involve additional risks such as limited liquidity and greater volatility than larger companies. Multi-manager and multi-style management may lead to overlapping securities transactions and higher transaction expenses compared to single investment management styles. Outcomes depend on the skill of the sub-advisers and adviser and the allocation of assets amongst them.

The Fund's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses must be considered carefully before investing. The statutory and summary prospectus contains this and other important information about the investment company, and they may be obtained by calling 1-855-823-3611 or visiting www.bridgebuildermutualfunds.com. Read the prospectus carefully before investing.

Free Cash Flow is a measure of financial performance calculated as operating cash flow minus capital expenditures. Free cash flow (FCF) represents the cash that a company is able to generate after laying out the money required to maintain or expand its asset base. Free cash flow is important because it allows a company to pursue opportunities that enhance shareholder value. Without cash, it's tough to develop new products, make acquisitions, pay dividends and reduce debt.
